Dear CT NWCO Assoc. Board,

Beaver exclusion devices can be another tool in a NWCO's arsenal, and they can generate addition income. So the nonprofit Beaver Institute is offering three 90% scholarships to CT NWCOA members for its professional beaver flow device training course. The course teaches the latest effective beaver exclusion and pond leveler device design and construction. This course is taught remotely, and trainees are from across the US and Canada. I developed the training for the Beaver Institute based upon my experience installing over 1,800 successful flow devices over 22 years.

For more info on our training course go to:

<https://www.beaverinstitute.org/education/get-training/>.

For info on our CT Beaver Initiative grant program go to:

<https://www.beaverinstitute.org/management/connecticut-beaver-initiative/>

The tuition for this comprehensive training program is $1,500. However, thanks to a grant from the CT-based John T. and Jane A. Wiederhold Foundation we are able to offer up to three of your Association members a 90% tuition discount. So the $1,500.00 course would only cost them $150.00! Our funding limits this tuition assistance offer to 3 applicants.

Any CT NWCOA member interested in more information or an application can contact our grant committee at grants@beaverinstitute.org.

Please contact me with any questions or concerns.

Thank you,
Mike Callahan
